Dear colleagues!

On behalf of the Belorussian Society of Cardiologists, let me thank you for the years of fruitful cooperation and the ESC contribution to the achievement of our common goal: to advance cardiovascular science to help people around the world live longer, healthier lives. We fully share the ESC's commitment to the principles of the Geneva Declaration. For us as doctors, every life is important, because we know its price well, and under any circumstances we will do everything to ensure a high level of care for cardiac patients, regardless of their nationality, religion and political views.

The information that appeared on the ESC official website about the restriction of the participation of Belarussian cardiologists in the ESC events and activities caused extreme bewilderment in the Belarussian medical community.

We hope for mutual understanding, and further fruitful cooperation aimed at strengthening medical science and professional ties between us.
